Re: JANE CARTER SOLUTION USERS???

Okay.....I decided on SheScentIt Butters & Ohemet Biologics this time, instead of the JC N&S. I still want it tho' 😊

So I know at some point, more thank likely, I will break down & get it. 😊

I wish it was on Sale. 😊

Re: JANE CARTER SOLUTION USERS???

NS feels great on my scalp. I love castor oil as well.

Are you ladies using NS (the cream in the jar) in your ends as a daily moisturizer? If so, do you seal it with an oil? Haven't tried this as of yet.

Love JCS!! I use the Revitalizing Leave-in, Wrap and Roll, Hair Nourishing Cream, and Nourish and Shine. They leave my hair so soft!

UPDATE SINCE THIS POST: I Swapped a Product for the JC N&S with another Poster.

Glad I now have it in the Stash. I really like it.

Happy to have both the Qhemet and the JC. Different Products. Different Results.

I definitely have Equal uses for both.

N&S is so rich, that I don't have to use it daily. Even so, I don't seal it with oil (for the most part; I use it on my dd's hair as a sealant after using a water-based product). It has a quite a few essential oils in it already; so sealing with oil would be too heavy on the hair. N&S is NOT a light moisturizer. 😞 It can weigh the hair down with too much product applied.

Re: JANE CARTER SOLUTION USERS???

Ok ladies, I heard that there's a bootleg version of N&S going around. I assumed it was the one without the label on the bottom of the jar. But I found one with the label and that one also looked like what I presumed to be the bootleg one. But, they both seemed a bit different in texture from what I'm used to.

Would anyone know the real deal? If so, please share with us. 😊

Wish I had an answer for ya, but maybe like a lot of companies, JC may have tweaked their formula to produce it more cheaply.

Re: JANE CARTER SOLUTION USERS???

I used my JC Hair Nourishing Serum and Nourish & Shine on Saturday after my henna & indigo treatment. 😊

Now, I've had the HNS for about a year in my stash and wasn't really wowed with it before. I wonder if it's because I didn't use enough the last time or my hair is in much better condition now and products work better. Either way, I'm going to continue to use this combination just to see if I can recreate the shine. Pure "Hit" for me. 🙄👍

Re: JANE CARTER SOLUTION USERS???

Just put some Nourish & Shine in my hair because it was a little too dry. I should have done the combo with the serum - I forgot about it! 🙄👍

I thought about that, but brushed it off; I think that has to be it!! 😊 Darn it! 🍷🍷🍷

But you know, now that you mention it, I do notice the N&S isn't as grainy as it used to be and the scent is not as strong. I happen to ADORE the scent of N&S and this was a disappointment to me.

OMG, I thought about that the other day; I said, dang, this thing would have been grainy if it had melted like this last year (it melted because I had it on my dvd player).

Yes, you're right; the scent isn't as strong, and even the color is much lighter. Remember how rich the color was before? A beautiful silky deep yellow? Now it's just yellow. 😞 Well, now I definitely won't feel bad about buying it for a much cheaper price; I guess I'm getting my money's worth now, and not a deal. 🙄

I'm disappointed as well.

Re: JANE CARTER SOLUTION USERS???

I got the softest most bouncy and sheen producing braid out a few days ago with the Nourish and Shine Cream. I've had it for about a year and originally, it didn't work for me. But I decided to give it a try again and wow! I guess it doesn't work as well on my loose hair or something. Either way, that was the absolute best braid out I had ever gotten. Now I wish I didn't waste half of it on my body when I decided that it didn't work for my hair earlier :-/
