My weekend find: Jane Carter Solutions at Marshalls

Products I've Tried

Add comments

One of my favorite things to do is to prowl the accessories and clearance isles of places like TJ Max, Marshalls, Nordstrom Rack and Target. I was at Marshalls on Friday and saw that they are now carrying some of the Jane Carters products. Needless to say, I got excited. I've always been interested in trying products of this line because I've only heard good things. I bought the Jane Carter Solution Wrap and Roll. This is known to work well with smoothing out natural hair when doing styles like roller sets. I will be trying a roller set with this in the near future so stay tuned for the results and review. Enjoy the rest of your weekend!

Have you ever found a natural hair product that you've been interested in trying at a place where you least expected?
