2. Nutrient Replenishing Conditioner $5 (reg $14)

Prior to purchasing the above products, I was already using the Wrapping lotion and Scalp Nourishing Serum. Well, at my salon that's what they used to wrap my hair with, and I always loved how it left my hair feeling soft & light weight unlike other wrapping lotions/mousse's I've used in the past. The Scalp Nourishing Serum I started using to help grow a patch of hair back that fell out for some reason, and it worked.

Moisture Nourishing Shampoo: This shampoo gently cleanses your hair and scalp, restoring your hair's proper moisture balance. Moisture Nourishing Shampoo is a natural based shampoo with extracts of Coltsfoot, Lemon Balm, and Myrrh. This unique combination infuses moisture into your hair, leaving it incredibly shiny and bouncy. It is also gentle enough for everyday use, and smells terrific! Its paraben free (source).

Ingredients: Deionized Water, Certified Organic Aloe Vera, Sodium Laureth Sulfate, Lauryl Glucoside, Cocoamidopropyl Betaine, PolyQuaterium 7, Glycol Stearate, Glycerin, Wheat Protein, Wheat Amino Acids, Tocopherol, Lecithin, Panthenol, Caprylic Acid, Glycine, Potassium Sorbate, Citric Acid (source).

My thoughts: I love this shampoo. It's concentrated, so you only need very little; you definitely get your money's worth. The lather is thick & creamy even. The scent is a nice, mild citrus. It gets my hair clean without it having that stripped dry feeling. It's great for vegan's & people who are into natural products. I wish I had bought more than one of these.

Nutrient Replenishing Conditioner: This product does just what it says...it replenishes. It works especially well when used with heat, leaving your hair in better condition than ever before. There is nothing better than soft, shiny, healthy hair. Nutrient Replenishing Conditioner contains ingredients that permanently bond to your hair's cortex, leaving it stronger and with better elasticity. Once in awhile, you come across a product that is truly "the best," and this conditioner is certainly one of those rare commodities (source)!

Ingredients: Deionized Water, Behentrimonium Methosulfate, Glycerin, Cetearyl Alcohol, Cetearth 20, Extracts of: Green Tea, Sage, Rosemary, Basil, Mullein, Licorice, Thyme, and Vanilla, Certified Organic: Sunflower Oil, Aloe Vera, Jojoba Oil, Lavender Oil, Lemon Oil, Wheat Protein, Wheat Amino Acids, Tocopherol, Lecithin, Panthenol, Caprylic Acid, Glycine, Potassium Sorbate, Citric Acid (source).

My Thoughts: This combined with the use of the shampoo, leaves my hair super soft. It's conditions, moisturizes, and has amazing detangling abilities on our relaxed hair. Sometimes, I use this along with my Queen Helene Super Cholesterol if I want to super treat my hair. Even though I have a short haircut now, my hair is healthier. I have less breakage, and less split ends. I also love the scent of this too. It smells nice, and it isn't overpowering.
