MTM: What are some of your favorite products [or product line] to use on women [and men] that want to wear their hair in it's natural state?

FL: I have been loving Jane Carter Solutions! I love her shampoo, her conditioner, her leave-in, and her Curl Defining Cream which is really nice. The Curl Defining Cream is similar to Miss Jessie's except it's not heavy and there's no parabens in it. So I've really been digging Jane Carter lately. My other favorite is Karen's Body Beautiful. Karen makes a really good hair milk called Sweet Ambrosia, I also love her Jojoba Oil with the Vanilla Lavender scent. So those have been in my tops.

I actually recently started using Carol's Daughter Hair Butter, I like that too. It's nice and light and doesn't clog up the pores, so I'm digging that as well.

MTM: What is your definition of natural beauty?

FL: My definition of natural beauty is when someone feels organically beautiful. When you meet someone and you are talking to them, and you can see that they are in their organic state of being. Their happy with themselves, they love the way they look, without make-up, without being dressed up and their really just in love with themselves; I call that natural beauty. I like when someone is naturally beautiful, just rockin' their own naturalness.
