Hey CharyJay!!!

I'm transitioning, and YES, I know I'm on CP time with a review of this video, but I looove your hair...And since I'm transitioning myself, and we have similar hair types, I definitely take into account your product reviews since I don't know what products are going to be my staples.

I have the jane carter twist and lock but I ma goin to try the nourish and shine and see how i like it. Question: What is the purpose of the daily stretch?

@abesykagdfu omg! im 13 and i wanna go natural too! when i was little, i had very curly hair. ever since i got a perm my hair has been breaking. i just recently got a perm, but the perm never lasts long. i thing its good that we wanna go natural! 😊

rina2410000 Says:

June 29th, 2011 at 07:59

how do u transition? do you just not get perms and relaxers? do you still get treatments at the hairdressers? To transition do you just wash your hair and use natural hair care products? gah so challenging ><

sofieshair Says:

June 29th, 2011 at 08:27

love your hair, im going thru the same process now and it is work finding out what works for you and what doesn't. your video looks great

sassyschanzy Says:

June 29th, 2011 at 09:25

i did the big chop today, all because of u, thanks dearie! ur a real inspiration, keep it up!

bubblegumgirl09 Says:

June 29th, 2011 at 09:30

@msgucci0099 No it is not necessary. You can transition until all of your permed ends are gone which is what I'm doing. It might take up to 2 1/2 years I heard. And I can't answer the second question because I am learning on here how to properly straighten my hair.

msgucci0099 Says:

June 29th, 2011 at 09:56

Question #1: Is it necessary to cut your hair to go natural? I haven't had a perm for 3 months(the longest I went was 6 months)and I'm thinking about not using a perm ever again. Question #2:Is it better to use the Instyler or Chi flat iron to make the hair straight?

mzkeri340 Says:

June 29th, 2011 at 10:55

hey!! thank you so much, i started doing videos also.....check my videos out.. i only got 2..lol but nevertheless you were one of the first videos that i started following, and you have inspired me to make encouraging vids for women who want to go natural!!!
thanks, mxkeri340

I dealt with the 2 textured for 4 months before doing the BC though but I just adore my TWA.....thanks for the videos they're helping me so much. I learn SO SO much on youtube.....IDK why it took me SO long to go natural....I'm NEVER going back!!!
